- Professional service at Utrecht University and the ICS: member of the national board of the ICS (1996-2011); chairman of the national board of the ICS (2001-2003; 2007-2009); scientific director of ICS-Utrecht / research director sociology (1997-2011); member of the Board of Research and Chair (including research director) of the Division Cultural Anthropology and Sociology, Faculty of Social and Behavioral Sciences (2005-2010); coordinator of the research master's program "Sociology and Social Research" (prestigemaster's program of Utrecht University; 2003-2011); member of the Board of Studies of the Graduate School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Faculty of Social and Behavioral Sciences (2002-present); Acting Chair of the Department of Methodology and Statistics, Faculty of Social and Behavioral Sciences (2009); Chair of the Advisory Committee "Research" of Utrecht University (2010-2012); vice-dean of the Faculty of Social and Behavioral Sciences and director of the Graduate School of Social and Behavioral Sciences (2010-present). Main responsibilities before appointment as vice-dean include the research program sociology at Utrecht University (as director of the program), the research school ICS (as member of the national board and repeatedly as chairman of the national board), and the research master's program "Sociology and Social Research" (as coordinator).
- While being director of the research program sociology of Utrecht University, the program was evaluated twice, in 2001 and in 2008/2009, in official comparative quality assessments of university research programs in sociology and the social sciences in the Netherlands according to the Standard Evaluation Protocol for Public Research Evaluations, conducted by international Peer Review Committees under the auspices of the Dutch research quality assessment agencies VSNU (2001) and QANU (2008). In the 2001 assessment of 34 programs in sociology as well as other social sciences, each program was assessed on the dimensions "quality", "relevance", and "viability", using five-point scales (1=poor,...5=excellent) and on the dimension "refereed publications", using three categories (low – medium – high). The Utrecht sociology program received scores 5 – 5 – 5 – high and thus the best overall evaluation of all 34 programs. In the 2008/2009 assessment of nine programs in sociology (the other social sciences were then subject to separate assessments), each program was assessed on the dimensions "quality", "productivity", "relevance", and "viability", using five-point scales (1=unsatisfactory,...,5=excellent). The Utrecht sociology program was the only one that received an assessment 5 – 5 – 5 – 5.
- While being member (and in various periods chairman) of the national board of the ICS, the research school was assessed very positively in official accreditation procedures of the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences (KNAW) in 1998 and 2003. Moreover, the ICS was selected for the prestigious NWO Graduate Program in the first and most competitive round 2008/2009 of the program and received one of only nine grants allocated in that round across all universities and disciplines in the Netherlands.
- While being coordinator of the research master's program Sociology and Social Research, the program has been evaluated in 2009 as part of the official re-accreditation procedure carried out by the Dutch-Flemish accreditation organization NVAO and a KNAW-committee. The 2009 results qualified the program as the best research master's program in the Netherlands across all disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences.
- Member of the International Scholarly Advisory Committee of the Institute for Empirical Social Science (IESSR), Xi'an Jiatong University (XJTU), China, 2009-present.
